Why Attend This Program?

Attend this program and you'll learn about the importance of IAQ, available technologies, and most importantly, techniques that you, your sales staff, and your field technicians can use to increase the size of your average ticket – all while providing additional services to your customers. You'll also hear about Aprilaire's new radon products, another new business opportunity for HVAC contractors.

About the Instructor - Brian Kennihan

Brian Kennihan is the Business Development Manager for Radon at AprilAire. Brian has spent the last 13 years at AprilAire in various roles, including District Sales Manager and Regional Manager. Brian's expertise lies in increasing sales and enhancing customer relationships with his in-depth knowledge of the HVAC industry and AprilAire product lines.
